

This is a presentation on the Health and Social Care Self Assessment.

It was presented to the Partnership Board in September 2015.

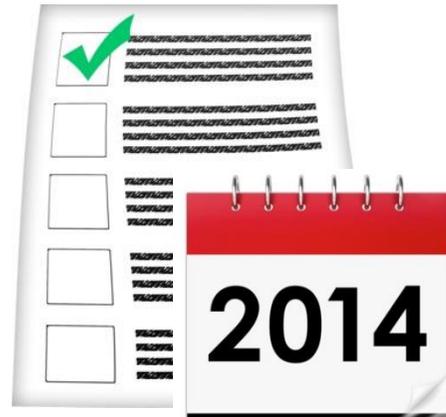

Check back at the Keeping Healthy page of the partnership board website for updates on this.

The Lancashire Health Self and Social Care Self Assessment

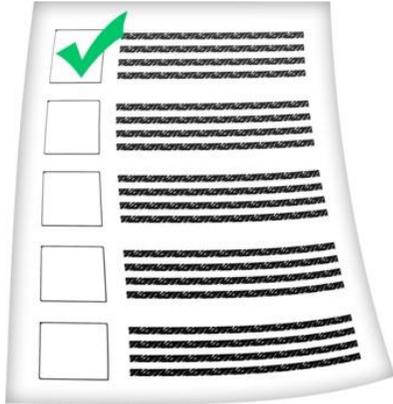

I am going to the Health and Well Being Board to tell them about the Self Assessment Framework.

I will tell them about how we did in the 2014 self assessment. I will tell them the things we need to do most work on to get better.

We are not sure yet how the next self assessment will work.

There will not be a SAF for this year. But Public Health England will collect information available nationally and send it to SAF leads to work on.

The national team that is responsible for the SAF will be writing to us about it very soon.

This is because the SAF is being changed.

The national team have listened to what a lot of people have said about the SAF.

They plan to launch a new SAF in April 2016.

People with learning disabilities told the national team the SAF did not collect information that was important to them.

Everyone did agree that the SAF was important so we knew what needed to be better.

There were concerns about how hard it was to collect all the information. And about how much time it takes.

It has been suggested that some work is done to check the results and actions from the 2014 assessment.

The idea was that this should be done by NHS England together with the Association of Directors of Adult Services (ADASS).
